

Navina Chhabria is an author and illustrator. She discovered her love for narrative illustration while leading the design team at a tech company and went on to study at Billy Blue College of Graphic Design, Sydney.

Today, she creates in both digital and traditional media. She enjoys playing with texture, pattern and color to infuse movement in her work.

Her debut picture book, Raaga's Song, A Diwali Story, released in September 2023 to wide acclaim with readings at Rubin Museum of Art, BCM and CMOM. It was also featured at the Brooklyn Library Children's Book Fair.

She currently lives in Michigan with her husband and young son where she is known to, besides other things, be the ultimate champion at peek-a-boo.
